

COCORO means "heart" in Japanese.
And "luck" needs no explanation.

We're what happens when you put them together. COCOLUCK products are made with Japanese quality to make you feel happy, special, loved, and lucky. Charmed, if you will.

Cocoluck uses traditional patterns in modern fashion items to create a new, modern, and unique look.

Do you want stylish, cool, and KAWAII items made from Japanese CHIRIMEN fabric?

Find out more about our products and our approach to design to help you live a charmed life!

Cocoluck Corporation

Aichi, Japan

US Contact

SKY ELEPHANT INC (LAS VEGAS, NV)

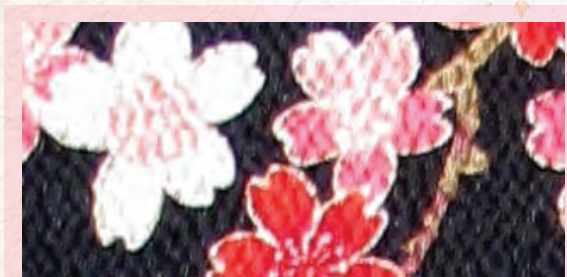

cocoluck@skyelephant.com

More Info

Japanese Patterns

Seasonal flowers and nature have inspired kimono patterns since ancient times. Each pattern has a meaning.

Here's an explanation of the meaning of some typical floral patterns:

Cherry Blossom

Cherry blossoms are a national symbol of Japan and represent spring. As a kimono pattern, it's used across all four seasons. The pink petals are known to people worldwide as "cute" flowers.

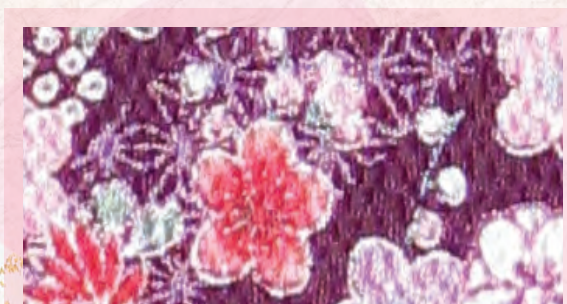

Meaning: "Spiritual Beauty," "Beautiful Woman"

Chrysanthemum

Chrysanthemum flowers, which have an elegant appearance, color, and fragrance. They represent autumn in Japan. The petals come in various sizes and colors and inspire patterns for kimonos and Japanese pottery.

Meaning: "Nobility" "Lofty"

Plum Blossom

The fragrant appearance of plum blossoms in the bitter cold inspires an elegant feeling, like the arrival of spring.

Meaning: "Faithfulness," "Patience"

What is CHIRIMEN

CHIRIMEN is Japanese fabric made from polyester, or rayon, silk with a distinctive crinkled texture. We achieve the crinkling effect by tightly twisting the threads during weaving.

Features of CHIRIMEN fabric used by COCOLUCK

Our 100% polyester material doesn't fade or shrink even when washed. We can change the size and design of the pattern depending on the product.

POPULAR BRANDS BY COCOLUCK

